

5 Tweezerman Slant tweezers

Tested by Matt Lizzimore

Using tweezers is frustrating. They're often too flimsy, or the ends don't meet properly and you can't actually do tweezing. Not these. At £20.95, they're a quality product, which is an odd thing to say about a pair of tweezers. They felt solid, and no hair can escape its vice-like grip. I even managed to remove a splinter from my finger. Winner.

Five treatments if you need to take drastic action

Ellipse Laser Nail Fungus Removal

Where? London Cosmetic Clinic

Who? Gershon Portnoi

How much? From £100 per session

The treatment I'm one of those men that takes time to get stuff done. And that stuff includes sorting out things that are wrong with my body. As a keen runner, I've had a nail fungus for more years than I can remember, but I've never bothered to do anything about it because I was too busy. Once, the nail fell off. And then it grew back and it was still fungal. Ah well. I was only too happy to give this treatment a go. If, like me, you think laser treatment is what happens to James Bond when he's lying on a table and a red line starts rushing towards his crown jewels, then we're both wrong. You do lie down, but that's as far as the similarities go. I was given a pair of dark glasses to protect me, then I shut my eyes and relaxed while the Ellipse laser did the business (you get your whole foot done just in case it has spread). It felt a bit like having a cold hairdryer blast the tips of your toes for around 15-20 minutes – not overly pleasant, but not unpleasant either.

The results There were four treatments in total, but I already started seeing results after the first attempt which was impressive. It doesn't hurt and it works. I'm sold. ellipseuk.com

IPL Hair Removal

“You feel each hair getting obliterated”

Where? Harley Medical Group, Harley Street

Who? James Charlton

How much? Four sessions of eyebrow hair removal costs £98

The treatment My monobrow is thick and mighty. Aged 15, I shaved it away; at 20, I plucked; by 23, I was nipping into shabby-looking salons and paying £5 to have my eyebrows threaded for special occasions.

Teeth Whitening

Where? Beauty and Smile, 2 Wimpole Street, London

Who? Su-San Sit

How much? £79*

The treatment Beauty and Smile claim to turn your coffee-stained nashers into pearly whites that are up to 10 shades lighter. They apply hydrogen peroxide gel to your teeth and use a controlled Blue light to activate it. The whole treatment takes an hour, with 40 minutes dedicated to just lying back while the light works its magic. ▶
